Marisa Garcia to Everyone:

such amazing women on this call!

Laahiri Chalasani (she/hers) to Everyone:

I like that - a Board of Directors that we can all 'collect' and aspire to be!

Diane Olmos-Guzman to Everyone:

Great to hear that mentors and role models are so important to helping shape the desired careers!

Laahiri Chalasani (she/hers) to Everyone:

Yes, Diane! Engaging role models is a great strategy in engaging young girls in STEM

Marisa Garcia to Everyone:

feel free to type questions here in the chat

Nicholas Alvarez to Everyone:

A great fictional Comic Superhero for young girls to check out would be Ironheart from Marvel. She takes over Tony Starks technology. Keep it up Ladies!

Diane Olmos-Guzman to Everyone:

Impressive.

Laahiri Chalasani (she/hers) to Everyone:

Ooh, I'll have to check out Ironheart. Thanks for recommendation, Nicholas!

Laahiri Chalasani (she/hers) to Everyone:

Start thinking about questions you want to ask the panelists. We'd love to hear what you are curious about.

Diane Olmos-Guzman to Everyone:

Yes, empowerment! Our non-profit organizations, Promoters of Education, Awareness, and Community Engagement and LULAC Council 4967 partnership just received a LULAC/Google Career Certificates Program for young adults affected by COVID-19 to Re-skill and enter the job market.

Karen Peterson to Everyone:

They are going on the road in 2022. Stay tuned!

Manny Leon to Everyone:

This is a great collection. I have highlighted a few of the profiles in our weekly emails to our teachers so they can share with students. Love that you can find folks that are local which is great for students to see women in STEM in their locations.
